16 READING WORKING WITH THE TEXT The caller

pp. 62-64 • WB (pp. 71-72)

a) How well do you know the story? Read the summary carefully. A few details are not correct. Mark the wrong sentences, sentence parts or words.

Lindsay's Aunt Margaret has died. At the funeral Lindsay's dad loses his car keys. Later at home, when Lindsay gets a call from a voice that says it's Aunt Margaret, she thinks it's her friend Candice. Lindsay goes to Missy's party and wears the diamond earrings of her dead aunt to show off. When the voice of Aunt Margaret calls Lindsay again on her father's cellphone, Lindsay thinks it's her cousins who are playing a trick. Lindsay tells the voice that she was only nice to her because she wanted the ring. That evening all the girls stay at Missy's house. Lindsay gets a third call from the unknown caller on her father's cellphone. The voice says she's coming back to get the ring. Lindsay thinks it's her brothers again who have found the phone and are trying to scare her. Lindsay calls home, but her mom says the boys are playing cards. In the middle of the call the lights go out at Lindsay's house and there's a loud noise. Then someone knocks at the back door of Missy's house. Lindsay is scared. She wants Missy to see who is at the door. Missy leaves Lindsay alone upstairs. Then Lindsay's phone rings again. She hears footsteps on the stairs and is afraid that it's Aunt Margaret's ghost. The voice behind the bedroom door sounds like Missy's, laughing at Lindsay because she's crying like a baby. Angry with Missy, Lindsay opens the door, but it is not Missy who is holding the phone in a muddy hand...
